

Enercom Metering Enclosures

In Enercom's workshop in Barwell Leicestershire all panels, cabinets and enclosures are purpose built prior to installation by in-house highly qualified electrical technicians, this ensures such products are built to a high specification and standard, enabling a clean, convenient and cost effective system installation. Some examples of our products are shown below.

